

AMERICAN NOTE WILL BE GIVEN OUT THIS EVE

MAKES NO SUGGESTION OF FINANCIAL REPARATION FOR AMERICAN LIVES.

DOES NOT INDICATE U.S. COURSE

But Hints That Nation Will Spare No Efforts To Obtain German Acquiescence.

(Associated Press)

Washington, D. C., May 13—President Wilson's note to Germany on the sinking of the Lusitania will be given out at Washington this evening for publication in the morning papers.

It does not say what steps will be taken or what course will be pursued by the United States in the event of an unfavorable reply; but it indicates that the United States will spare no pains, either by diplomatic representations, or otherwise, to obtain acquiescence.

NO FINANCIAL REPARATION

It is understood that the note makes no special demand for financial reparation for the loss of American lives, but that it asks reparation in general terms, avoiding any impression that the loss of Americans on the Lusitania could be atoned by mere cash indemnities.

In some quarters friendly to Germany, the impression prevailed that Berlin would accede to the demands and would also state its expectation that the United States would endeavor to secure the unrestricted passage of foodstuffs and conditional contraband to the civilian population of Germany.

Not Regarded as Ultimatum.

Officials construe the language of the note as placing upon Germany moral, legal and financial obligations to the United States for the incidents of the Falaba, the Cushing, the Gulf Light and the crowning tragedy of the Lusitania, but as leaving the door open for Germany to make such argument as she may see fit as to future policy.

In brief, the note is not regarded as in the nature of an ultimatum, despite efforts made by some close to the president to create the impression that it was of that character.

The consequences of the note will depend upon the attitude of Germany in response to it, rather than on its own decisiveness.

It is understood to be decisive only insofar as to what has been done. It is understood to tell Germany with finality so far as the United States is concerned, what she must do in the future.

It is explained that the phrase "strict accountability" used in a former note, meant that Germany was to be held morally and legally responsible for all violations of international law affecting American lives or property.

Crucial Point Discussed.

The discussion of the note everywhere in official circles in Washington.

Ex-President Taft Favors Arbitration Court of Nations

(Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., May 12 — Former President Wm. H. Taft speaking at the World's Court congress tonight outlined his plan for the establishment of a league of peace and an arbitral court, with the object of settling by arbitration differences between the nations of the world and preventing further wars. Such a league should include all the great nations, Mr. Taft explained, with an agreement that should any singular power begin war with another member without first submitting its grievance to the court all the other signatories would be bound to join in forcible defense of the members thus prematurely attacked.

Idea Is Practical.

That this idea for an international tribunal is practical and feasible is

May Compel U.S. To Strengthen Our Army And Navy

Danger Of Clash Germany Will Force Nation To Keep Place

Washington, D. C., May 12 — "There is some kind of providence which looks after fools, drunken men and the United States. This providence is now precipitating us into peril of a war with Germany, which will do more than any other thing to force the United States to retain its position in the group of world powers."

The speaker was one of the foremost military experts in the United States.

"If Germany declares war against the United States because of its refusal to meet the terms set forth by President Wilson in his note, this country will be compelled to modernize its army and its navy. Unless Germany at the present time makes such a declaration of war the end of the present conflict in Europe will find the United States at least ten years behind in naval development and pitifully weak on land."

"Even if this country is not called upon to send a man to Europe to fight, even if it is not called upon to engage in a single sea action, it will be compelled to recruit a standing army which will be ready for any sort of service demanded of it, and it will be compelled to balance up the navy, to bring it up to date where American vessels would stand a show in an engagement with the fleets of any country in the world."

AEROPLANES WILL FOLLOW HIGHWAY IN COMING FLIGHT

AERO CLUB OF AMERICA IS ARRANGING BIG COMPETITION TO START JULY 1.

DIXON MAY SEE MACHINES

Possibly Some of the Fliers Will Land In This Vicinity—Mission Peaceable.

Dixon people need feel no alarm if some time this summer they see many aeroplanes swooping down on the city. It will not be a squad of German air-raiders and you won't have to hurry to the cellar for fear of bombs. The aviators who will visit this city will come on a peaceable mission.

Great Tests Planned.

The Aero Club of America will hold a great aeroplane meet all over the country, from July 4 to August 12. Flights will be made from various cities and of course many trips will start from Chicago, following the Lincoln highway. This will bring Dixon in line for some of the flights from Chicago to points in Iowa. Supply stations are being designated where the aviators will replenish their gasoline tanks and to secure other accessories.

Prizes Worth $200,000.

The club has hung up $200,000 in prizes which aviators will strive for. The money will be distributed in small amounts so all the aviators may be rewarded for some feat or other. For instance, prizes will be offered for the quickest flights between specified cities. Others will be given for distance flights and others for endurance and altitude. The idea of the contest is to demonstrate the practicability of the aeroplane for mail service or other useful occupations.

OFFICIALS LOOKING OVER DISTRICT LAND

COUNTY JUDGE CRABTREE AND PARTY SPEND DAY ON IN- LET DITCH

The hearing on the objections filed by land owners along the Inlet Drainage District against having their land taken into the district has been continued until next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Today Judge John B. Crabtree, County Clerk Fred G. Dimick, Sheriff R. R. Phillips, and deputy Sheriff Frank Schoenholtz made a trip over the land in the east end of the district concerning which testimony has been introduced to try to substantiate why the land should not be taken into the district. Tomorrow the land of the objectors in the middle of the district will be gone over. When the hearing is resumed next week it will be in reference to what objections have been filed in the western part of the district. After all the objectors have been heard the Judge will rule on those which will be sustained, and with this disposed of the jury will likely be called to pass on the benefits that will be derived by the land taken into the district. It looks as though it will be well along into the summer before the matter is finally disposed of.

Captain Turner of Lusitania Tells of Sighting Torpedoes.

Two torpedoes were fired at the Lusitania. When they struck a German submarine rose to the surface and dived again almost at once. The havoc was due entirely to torpedoes and not to ammunition or infernal machines in the hold of the ship. These were the positive assertions of Captain W. T. Turner of the sunken liner, who is shown in the accompanying illustration. It was the first statement the captain made. "I kept to the middle channel, following orders received from the admiralty," he said. "From the bridge I saw a torpedo coming our way, and I tried to change the ship's course in time to avoid it. The second torpedo followed almost immediately. The second struck right over the boilers, crippling the engines. For this reason it was impossible to beach the Lusitania. I did not order the lifeboats out sooner because it was foolish to try to get them into the water before the Lusitania lost all headway. Otherwise they would have been swamped. It was cold blooded murder, nothing else. All talk of an internal explosion is foolish. Had there been high explosives or any amount of ammunition in the hold the liner would have been blown to bits instead of sinking as she did. There had been no reason for running under forced draft. That is why we were not at full speed. I saw the submarine again. I was in the water four hours, and while I was swimming I saw the craft rise amid the wreckage and dive again. Others say it even better than I did."

Man From Dixon Lost Roll; New Friend Got It

John Bowers Went To Sleep In Freeport - His Money Is Taken

Freeport, May 13. — A chance acquaintance proved to be costly to John Bowers of Eldorado, Ill., who came to this city early this morning from Dixon, where he has been working on a farm for several months, saving about $17 from his earnings. Bowers left Dixon yesterday, bound for the west, where he hoped to get employment. He came to Freeport on a freight train and went to Wallace yards, arriving there about 4 o'clock this morning.

Bowers met up with a fellow who gave the name of James Darling. They planned to make the trip west together and seek work. Darling suggested that they go to a nearby spot and sleep until daylight and then catch a train west. Just before he lay down to take a nap, Bowers took a roll consisting of $15 and placed it in a shirt pocket and securely fastened the same with a safety pin. He stated today that he did so for safety's sake, but his plans went amiss. The sight of the roll was evidently the cue for Darling to remain awake, and as soon as Bowers went to sleep Darling frisked his pal for the entire roll and made his getaway. When Bowers awoke this morning he missed his money. He at once reported his loss to the police and a search was made for Darling but he evidently caught a train out of the city several hours before Bowers discovered that he had been "touched."

Several suspects were brought to the police station this morning and given the once over but Bowers was unable to identify any of them as the man who had vanished with the money.

INSPECTION AUTO COMES THIS MONTH

OFFICIALS OF LINCOLN HIGHWAY WILL TAKE VIEWS ALONG ROUTE.

The Lincoln Memorial Highway official inspection car comes this month and much interest in its coming is reported from all along the great highway in Illinois.

The car will contain a group of head officials of the association from Detroit. It will be equipped with moving picture paraphernalia and views of the great highway will be taken en route.

From reports throughout the state it is apparent that in various counties the good work of 1914 is being prosecuted and the highway is being materially improved this spring. Good road enthusiasts in this vicinity are desirous of having the road in the very best of shape before the tour of inspection.

OILED RIVER ROAD WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon oiling on the river road was started from the upper ice houses to the cement plant by Eli Lloyd. The road was swept and the dust removed and then heated oil was put on. If the oiling of the road proves advantageous the highway commissioners contemplate oiling additional main traveled roads leading to the city.

Leakless Inner Tubes

Goodyear Laminated Tubes
Built Layer on Layer—Extra Thick

Here is something every motorist should know.

Goodyear Laminated Tubes are built of many thin layers—each of pure rubber—vulcanized together. No flaw can be hidden as in a thick piece of rubber. It is seen and eliminated. Every layer is perfect.

Such a Tube can't leak. And our valve patch can't leak, because it is part of the Tube and not stuck on.

Remember that. Many a tire trouble is due to leaky Tubes.

14% Heavier

Goodyear Laminated Tubes are extra heavy. They have always outworn any tire. But this year we have added 14 per cent to their average thickness—all pure rubber.

And our

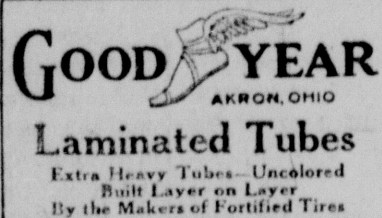

Tube prices this year are reduced 20 per cent. So these layer Tubes, extra-thick, now cost about the same as others.

Always Gray

Goodyear Laminated Tubes are not colored. They are gray—the natural pure rubber color. Color requires a large percentage of mineral adulteration. And minerals, hold heat, a Tube's worst enemy.

Whatever tires you use, get Goodyear Tubes. They will outlast your tires, save you leaks and trouble. They will also convert you to Goodyear Fortified Tires, built by the same high standards.

Any dealer will supply you. (256)

DENMARK.

Denmark is a collection of islands and a thumb of mainland which stick out from the continent of Europe and form half of the gate of the Baltic sea. Like all European nations Denmark has varied greatly in size. A thousand years ago it ran England and spread over the west of Europe like an exceedingly painful rash. A hundred years ago it was so powerful that the English navy tackled it with great caution, and fifty years ago Prussia did the honor of fighting it single-handed and alone.

Today Denmark contains only about 15,000 square and rather damp miles and about as many people as Chicago. It is a monarchy but everyone is perfectly free in Denmark, except the king himself, who has to belong to the Lutheran religion and is in other ways much oppressed and held down, not being able to make war at will or to imprison anyone who stops him on the main street of Copenhagen to give him advice.

The privilege of a king in Denmark is to work harder than anyone else for life without any chance of advancement. Still the place is always easily filled.

Denmark is a low-lying, barren country with few factories, fewer soldiers and no leisure class to speak of. Most of Denmark's land would be abandoned by the New England farmer in disgust. Yet this small country raises enough cattle and hogs, and produces enough milk, butter and cheese to feed itself and part of England, and to enable the hard-working Dane to save enough money to come to America and get rich.

The American dairyman who has raised the price of milk 100 per cent in 20 years because of the crowded country, the scarcity of hay and the growing demand for Victrolas and automobiles, should look blusfully at Denmark, whose farmers balance a calf on a barren island and live off of her descendants.

Denmark is a scholarly country with many great men in its history, a beautiful capital city and one of the largest and most unremunerative colonies in the world. It owns Greenland but has never been able to survey it or collect any taxes north of the 80th latitude. It also owns Iceland and is still mourning for Schleswig-Holstein which was amputated from it in the sixties.

Denmark's navy consist of an immense fleet of islands on either coast and a few small war vessels which, in case of trouble, would be much easier to hide than the larger vessels of the great powers and are, therefore, more effective.

SLANDERS BRYAN; IS BOUNCED BY GERARD

Ambassador Calls on Germany to Expel Disturber.

Berlin, May 13.—(Via The Hague.)—United States Ambassador Gerard ordered the forcible ejection from the American embassy of Maurice Somborn, European director of the National Sweeper company of Torrington, Conn., and Marion, Ind., for abuse against President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. He has appealed to the German government, asking that the offender be expelled. Somborn, who is a naturalized German-American, called at the embassy to see Gerard. He told the American envoy that Secretary of State Bryan had "accepted British bribes."

"I won't have anybody insult the secretary, whom I represent, in my office," Gerard exclaimed. "Get out." "I won't get out," Somborn retorted. "I have evidence that Bryan is bribed."

Gerard repeated his admonition to the man to leave and when he still refused, called his butler, who finally ejected Somborn forcibly.

"I will ask the German government to expel Somborn for his repeated abuse of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan at this embassy," the ambassador said.

TAFT FAVORS COURT OF NATIONS

this respect it would be a departure from the traditional policy of the United States in avoiding entanglements with European or Asiatic countries. But I conceive that the interests of the United States in the close relation it has of a business and social character with the other countries of the world, much closer now than ever before, would justify it, if such a league could be formed, running the risk that there might be of such a war in making more probable the securing of the inestimable boon of peace of the world that now seems so far away."

Mr. Taft also pointed out in support of his plan the amicable settlement of issues between the people of the United States and Canada, "which because of their nature might have led to war."

He added: "It is not too much to say that the 'habit' of arbitration is so fixed that a treaty to secure such a settlement in future issues would not make it more certain than it is. It is interesting to note that we now have two permanent English-American commissions settling questions."

OVER HALF OF PEOPLE HAVE THE HOOK WORM

STARTLING CONDITION SHOWN AMONG CITIZENS OF REPUBLIC OF PANAMA

Panama, May 1 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The cable report that sixty per cent of the population of the Republic of Panama had been found affected with hookworm disease, by Dr. L. W. Hackett of the International Health Commission of the Rockefeller Foundation, is interesting in other respects. The report indicates that of the adult population 67 per cent are affected while of the children, practically 79 percent have the disease in a more or less pronounced degree.

The report of Dr. Hackett is the result of more than seven months investigation in all parts of the country. Ten thousand adults came under direct examination.

"Routine examination of the blood" says the report, "showed that a large majority of persons living in the interior of the republic are directly anemic, the average blood being only 59 percent of normal, indicating a dangerous degree of lowered resistance. Since the parasite affects the children most heavily, stunting their bodies and minds and causing them to fall an easy prey to other diseases the figures reveal an alarming condition existing among the rising generation. This state of physical debility is due to the complete absence of all sanitary equipment and regulation in both school houses and dwellings in the interior."

The report shows that more than 3,000 homes were visited and instructive talks given to nearly 12,000 persons. Lectures were given in 33 schools. Three laboratories are now working in various parts of the republic.

HEALTH DEPT NOW AFTER MANURE PILES

CO-OPERATION OF CITIZENS IS ASKED IN REGULATION OF NUISANCES

The municipal department of health has declared war on manure piles within the city limits, and the co-operation of all citizens is asked, the efforts which will be made to eliminate the useless accumulation of manure. It is requested that removals be made often, that where it is possible boxes with covers be provided and that all manure piles be sprinkled frequently with kerosene, which will prevent the breeding of flies. Ninety per cent of all flies are said to be bred in these places.

BILL SHAW'S CLOSING-OUT LIVE STOCK SALE.

At his place of residence, 3 miles south of Amboy, Illinois, commencing at 10 o'clock sharp on

MONDAY, MAY 17, 1915
Poor health and old age combined have succeeded in driving me off the farm and I will throw on the market the product of my year's breeding industry. 19 Head of Horses and Colts—Consisting of 6 registered Morgan Stallions ranging in age from 7 to 9 years; 5 registered Morgan mares ranging in age from 5 to 9 years. Registration papers for all the above horses and mares will be furnished to the purchasers. 2 black mares 8 years old—a fine pair; bay mare 6 years old; 2 mares 2 years old; 6-year-old bay gelding; 3-year-old bay gelding. Yearling colt.

Understand I have been a breeder of horses not a developer and trainer and the prices animals of my breeding have sold for was because of their individual merit. What they have done in the hands of developers is a part of the history of Amboy. I know I am quitting the game at the wrong time as Mr. Dewey has had more inquiries for good ones in the last six months than in the three previous years, and I have sold in that time three undeveloped animals for $1225 and they were bought on speculation by expert horsemen who anticipate the demand that is due when quarantine regulations are removed and the war ended. But the time comes to all when active work must cease and I feel that I have reached that place.

45 Head of Cattle—23 cows, mostly fresh; 1 three-year-old heifer; registered Durham Duke one year old; 7 yearlings; 13 calves. This is a good quality bunch of cattle.

Farming Tools—Consisting of enough implements to run this large farm that I have owned for a number of years.
Terms of Sale—All sums of $10 and under, cash. Over that amount a credit of 8 months on notes with approved security drawing interest at 7 per cent per annum. Interest to be deducted if paid promptly at maturity. Discounts of 3 per cent will be given for cash on credit sales. No property to be removed until settled for.

A good lunch will be served free at noon.

Worthy of Imitation

Twenty years ago there graduated from the high school at Austin, Minn., a class of twenty pupils—five boys and fifteen girls. They are now scattered all over the United States, and one of them is a missionary in India. Of the boys two are lawyers, one a missionary, the others business men. The girls are all married well and have families. They keep in constant communication with each other by means of a class letter. This letter begins at Austin and is sent to the one nearest, recipient reads it, and adds a letter and sends it to the next, and so on. Mrs. Adolph Eichler, one of the class has just received the annual letter. The class also maintains a scholarship at the mission in India, educating one child. A reunion of the class will take place in June this year, at Austin, Minn.

SUBSTITUTE FOODS?

Wars, and the consequent shortness of many ordinary articles of food, have the effect of calling attention to a surprising number of edibles generally overlooked in times of peace and plenty. Some of these forgotten or newly discovered are actually good to eat. We may always reduce the cost of living having recourse to nourishing but unpalatable viands; it is the newly found toothsome dainties that arouse our keener interest.

Take whale steak for instance. A correspondent has discovered that this often despised article is positively delicious if properly prepared. Even the cheaper cuts are good. Here we've been going to the trouble and expense of procuring small fish, often terribly bony, when one good-sized whale would feed an entire community, and the danger of getting whalebone stuck cross-wise in the throat is comparatively nil. This should be investigated at once.

Then again, most of us have been in profound ignorance of a fact known to every child in the Arabian desert—that the hump of a camel is a choice morsel of food. Now people have known all along that camels, even the cheapest and worst bred, are possessed of humps; and yet it has never occurred to us to take advantage of this fact. So it is with the esculent seaweed that grows on the coast of Formosa, the kidneys of the common kangaroo and many another victual now going to waste.

The French long ago learned to esteem crawfish and snails as delicacies. We destroy the snails that slime our pea vines and use crawfish as bait for bass. Fresh water mussels are really fine eating if properly prepared. Many a traveler will tell you there is nothing more delicious than grasshoppers, as cooked by certain savage tribes.

These are dainties we are missing. To be sure there are other things; articles of food that will sustain life, but can scarcely be called real food. But of these we will not speak, when there exist good things as yet scarcely tried.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DYE SCARE FADES AWAY.

The dyestuff bugaboo, paraded by the agents of German chemists, is not frightening half so many people today as it did six months ago. We are told that unless something were done to relieve the situation the textile mills would have to be closed in thirty days and the secretary of state was asked to use his influence with the Allies to secure permission to get a cargo of German dyestuffs through the blockade.

The hosiery and underwear men, however, do not seem to be frightened. The dye men are telling them that they have solved the dye problem and are independent of Germany. Some of the manufacturers are letting it be known that they have dye enough to last them for two years or more, whether the war ends or not.

It may not be immediately possible for all the others to get the shades that were used before the war, but American chemists have produced dyes that are satisfactory, and American knitting and textile men are willing to use them. This is the result that was expected. If American dye men take advantage of the opportunity they can monopolize the market here at home after the blockade on German ports is raised and after the German importers begin again to bring in foreign colors.—Philadelphia Ledger.

GERMAN-AMERICANS ARE LOYAL.

Rudolph Blankenburg, the German mayor of Philadelphia, has set a good example for all German-Americans throughout the country, says the Elgin News. In introducing President Wilson, he declared his strict allegiance to the country of his adoption and his utmost faith and confidence in its president. We repeat below what he said in this connection and thoroughly believe that he expresses the sentiments of that great body of our German-American brothers:

"Let us unite in singing America," were the words spoken with a distinct German accent with which Mayor Blankenburg opened the meeting.

Mayor Blankenburg called attention to the fact that like other aliens he had "come from foreign shores to find in the United States a home."

"No matter what our personal feelings for the country we left behind, our first allegiance is to the country of our adoption," the mayor said. "I cannot impress this too strongly on account of the occurrences of the last eight months. Thank God we have a man in the White House who knows, who is just, a man who knows what to do."

"I am perfectly willing to leave the conduct of the great problem now confronting us in the hands of our great president. I present to you—God bless him—the President."

A REBUKE TO ROOSEVELT.

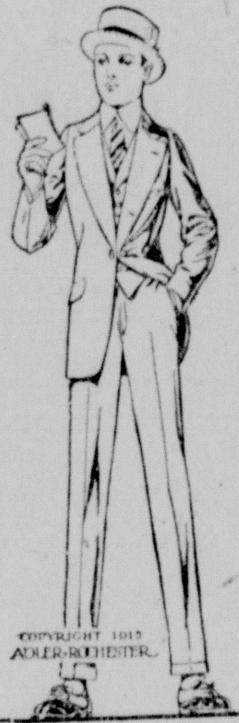

The Chicago Tribune devotes about a column of its editorial page to a smoothly worded message to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the gist of which, boiled down, is to tell the esteemed Colonel that he talks too much and that his country will be much better off if he will close his trap and go way back in the corner and sit down. The Colonel is displaying certain traits that will stamp him as a jingo if he keeps on. He is criticizing President Wilson and goading him to rush the Germans for the attack on the Lusitania. Right now President Wilson is "The Man of the Hour" in this country and this country does not care to hear President Wilson criticized. Wilson is President and he will handle the war situation in a much saner and safer way than Theodore Roosevelt would have done if he were in office. The American people are thanking their lucky stars that Roosevelt is not president. Roosevelt's war spirit may be noble enough but it is not welcome just now.

BAD ENGLISH WON'T FIX IT THIS TIME.

A high German official at the German embassy in Washington remarked a few days before the Lusitania affair that troubles between America and Germany never amounted to much because "President Wilson sends Germany a note couched in beautiful English and we reply in bad English and that ends the matter." But the Germans may find that Uncle Sam is not so easy to fool forever. Rouse the old fellow and he may give them something to be concerned about. When the Kaiser gets President Wilson's last note he will realize that he has got something that it will take more than bad English or good German apologies to patch up. Your Uncle Sam is getting tired of patches.

GOOD AND EVIL.

The poet got his facts awry, concerning what lives after death; the good men do lives on for aye, the evil passes like a breath. A noble thought, by thinker think, will live and flourish through the years; a thought ignoble goes kerplunk, to perish in a pool of tears. Man dies, and folks around his bed behold his tranquil outworn clay; "We'll speak no evil of the dead, but recollect the good," they say. Then one recalls some noble trait which figured in the ice-cold gent. "He fixed the Widow Johnsing's gate, and wouldn't charge a doggone cent." "Oh, he was grand when folks were ill; he'd stay and nurse them night and day, hand them the bolus and the pill, and never hint around for pay." "He ran three blocks to catch my wig when April weather was at large." "He butchered Mrs. Jagway's pig, and smoked the hams and didn't charge." Thus men conspire to place on file and make a record of the good, and they'd forget the mean and vile for which, perhaps, in life you stood. The shining heroes we admire had faults and vices just like you; when they concluded to expire, their failings kicked the bucket, too.

Chicago Tribune: To say that amusement does no good is no proper argument against it. Its sufficient justification is that it affords pleasure without doing harm. Pleasure and amusement do not need moral justifications. They do not have to make for moral good. It is not their purpose. They do not have to be defended merely because they are not utilitarian.

OBITUARY

MISS LIDA JOHNSON

Miss Lida Maude Johnson passed away at Seattle, Wash., on May 7th, 1915, after a lingering illness.

Miss Johnson was born in Palmyra on Jan. 11, 1876. She graduated from the Palmyra schools and after ward from the Dixon high school in 1895. In 1909 she went to the University of Chicago where she took a course in Domestic Science graduating in 1910. For the following year she was assistant manager of the lunch rooms at Marshall Field's. In 1912 she went to Seattle and took charge of school lunch room organizing it and managing it successfully.
Miss Johnson will be greatly missed in a large circle of Dixon friends among whom she was a great favorite because of the sterling qualities of her character. For several years her health had been gradually failing. She made a good fight for life but the end came more quickly than was expected after some weeks of suffering. Her parents have the sympathy of the entire community.

The funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the home of her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Howard Johnson of 312 E.
Second street, Rev. S. S. Cryor of El Paso Ill., officiating.

Interment was at the Sugar Grove cemetery.

The following letter was received by Mrs. Johnson from Principal Thos.
R. Cole of the Broadway High school
Seattle, Wash.:

Permit me as the official representative of the teachers at the Broadway High school, to express to you in the sad hour of your bereavement

our sincere regret in the loss of your daughter, Miss Lida.

She came to Broadway four years ago a stranger, and undertook the big task of organizing our school lunch room so as to accommodate two thousand pupils. That she succeeded admirably is evident from the splendid manner in which her department of our school has at all times satisfied both teachers and pupils.

She was endowed with a high sense of honor and was always willing to go out of her way to please and serve others. We have been deeply interested in her since she was compelled to leave the school on account of sickness three weeks ago, and earnestly hoped that she would succeed in her struggle for health and return to us.

I trust that these few words will be of some solace to you and that you may return to your Illinois home feeling that your daughter has not only succeeded but has been loved by her associates here.

William Ganzert home in Nelson

URGES BETTER PAY
FOR ALL PRISONERSKANSAS CITY OFFICER SAYS
MEN SHOULD BE COMPEN-SATED

(Associated Press)

Baltimore, Md., May 13—Better pay for work-house prisoners was urged by Karl L. Schrieber, superintendent of the Parole Department of the Board of Public Welfare in Kansas City, Mo., in an address delivered today at the National Conference of Charities and Correction.

In line with the modern purpose of imprisonment, which was largely to straighten out the attitude of the criminal towards society and instill him with a desire to "make good," when liberated, Mr. Schrieber declared that the community which allowed its penal institutions to turn down human products much the worse for incarceration, should close their doors altogether to keep other unfortunates out.

PEOPLES COLUMN

ON PEDDLERS' LICENSE.

From yesterday's Dixon papers we learn that at a meeting of the Dixon Commercial club the ordinance relating to peddlers was introduced and, following a lengthy discussion, it was decided to appoint a committee of business men to confer with Secretary W. G. Kent and draft an ordinance which will cover this matter. This committee will probably be named within a few days and will take up their duties.

This means, if it means anything, that the Dixon Commercial club, in conjunction with W. G. Kent, will draft an ordinance relating to peddlers and that said ordinance will be presented to the city council, and that they are expected to make it a law binding on all peddlers in Dixon, and at the same time affecting all the people of Dixon. It means that the ordinance drafted by the committee and Secretary W. G. Kent will require a license which will be practically prohibitive, and after its passage by the council the poor man's wife cannot buy a box of strawberries, a bushel of potatoes, or a head of cabbage except at the prices dictated by the Commercial club. The object is to keep the producer from the consumer; to keep the consumer in subjection to the store keeper, and deprive him of the liberty of buying where he can get his goods at a just and fair price.

In regard to this there are two pertinent questions for us to ask: "Will the city council pass the ordinance drafted by the club committee in conjunction with Secretary W. G.
Kent?" and, "If the council does pass it what are we going to do about it?"

We will all answer these questions for ourselves, both in regard to the council and the merchants. As we have immediate dealings with the merchants we could deal with them at once, or, more properly speaking,
we could cease to deal with them.

In regard to the council I am free to say that I deem it almost inconceivable that its members should lend themselves to the furtherance of a scheme involving such vicious class legislation against the people of Dixon.

WILL PUBLISH NOTE
TO GERMANY TONIGHT

ton focused on one point. This point was whether or not the president would say to Germany, as it was represented by those close to him he intended to say, that German submarines must afford neutrals even on belligerent ships an opportunity to escape before launching their torpedoes against the ship, and if they felt they could not do this with safety to themselves, then the kind of submarine warfare they have been waging must stop.

This was considered the crucial point, the point which would determine whether or not inevitably there would be a break between the United States and Germany, which most probably would result in a state of war between the two nations.

It was not believed that if the president confined himself to denunciation of the inhumanity of the action which sent the Lusitania to the bottom of the sea and cost so many American lives a break between the two countries necessarily would result.

But if the president should insist that Germany, in her submarine warfare against Great Britain, should operate under the restrictions necessary to guarantee the safety of neutrals traveling on British ships, even though those ships carried munitions of war, then it was thought Germany surely would not give such assurances and that an impasse would be created.

One Course Left Open.

Such a situation, it was said, would leave open only one course to the United States, and that would be to break off relations with Germany.

ELECTRICITY USED ON MANY FARMS

Missouri Farmers Enjoy all the Luxuries Found in a Modern City Home.

POWER USED IN DAIRIES ALSO

Motors Supply Power for Running Separators and to Force Water Through Buildings.

From Bay County, Missouri, comes an interesting account of how electricity has been put to many uses. Two dairy farms and one stock farm have direct connection with the plant of the Excelsior Springs Water, Gas & Electric Company, which furnishes not only the electricity for power and light in the city of Excelsior Springs, but supplies current to towns nine miles northeast, fourteen miles west and nine miles south. The three electrically equipped farms have their own power lines, the company building the branches, putting in all the necessary equipment and allowing the owners of the farms to pay their part of the installation cost in monthly payments, distributed over a long period and added to the power bills.

A 127 acre dairy farm owned by J. H. Ford has a complete and up-to-date electric light, power and water works system. The fifteen horsepower motor is located in the cooling room of the milking barn and within a few feet of the silo. The motor can be belted directly to the silage cutter and blower for filling the silo, or the circular saw, which is a drudgery saver in cutting the great amount of wood used on a farm. The house, barns and sheds are wired for electric lights, eliminating the great fire risk of use of lanterns and coal oil lamps. The motor is also connected to a counter shaft for running a vacuum pump, which operates two milking machines. For convenience in milking, the barn piping has a connection and valve at each pair of stanchions, thus enabling the operator to milk any two cows at one time. The milking machines pump the milk through tubing into an aluminum container, from which it is strained into the cans for delivery and immediately cooled in running water before sending into town.

Water sufficient for use wherever it is needed is obtained from a spring on a level thirty feet lower than the house and barn. The spring is inclosed in a concrete basin and a practically freeze-proof tankhouse erected over it. A branch from the main power line runs from the barn to the springhouse and operates a motor driving a pump which automatically keeps the pressure in a 720 gallon compression tank at thirty-five pounds to the square inch. From this tank water is piped to the house, milkhouse, barns, dooryard and pastures, where hydrants make fresh water for domestic uses and for stock water always available and at a pressure sufficient for adequate fire protection.

The dairy farm owned by Jesse Williams has approximately the same electric power and light equipment, with the addition of an electric washing machine for the farmhouse.

Thirty-six cows are milked at each of the dairies, electric milkers doing the work, which is supervised by two men. Milking that number of cows requires only an hour and twenty minutes. The cows are so well satisfied with the machine that they bitterly resent any attempt at hand milking. Williams figures that the machines save him an average of $100 a month in time and labor.

At the Ard-Rich stock farm, where Dr. S. D. Henry lives, electricity lights the eight-room house and sends water from cisterns to all parts of it. Also, an electric motor runs the wood saw, cuts silage, fills the silo, grinds feed and runs the machine threshing the wheat, oats, rye and millet from 150 acres of those crops.

PROPHESIED HIS LONG SLEEP

Strange Fulfillment of Weary Lodger's Words on Retiring.

Seattle, Wash.—"I feel so tired that I believe I could sleep forever," remarked C. A. Kinkaid to the hotel clerk as he obtained his key and repaired to his room.

On the following afternoon Kinkaid was found dead. Death was due to asphyxiation, and evidently was accidental. One of the gas burners was partly open, but the window was up about six inches.

Kinkaid, who was a bridge carpenter, was a well-known member of the Eagles. He is survived by a wife, who left the city a few weeks ago to visit relatives in Lafayette, Ohio.

IRATE BULL BUTTS A TRAIN

Taurus Dents Car Badly and Then Rambles Back to Pasture

Sunbury, Pa.—A big Alderney bull in a pasture field owned by Chas. Gosar, a farmer, near Snyderstown, took offense at the whistling of an express train on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, which passes close by. Taurus jumped a five-rail fence and plunged headlong against the side of a car, and then fell close to the tracks as though dead.

The train was stopped and the crew went back, only to see the animal rise and run back into its pasture. The impact made a dent in the side of the car as big as a dinner pail.

Get a free can of CHI-NAMEL, and a brush for 10c at our demonstration May 12-13. E. J. Ferguson, Hdq. 1112

In the community is subject to kitchen duty. The rule, however, is two weeks' work and one week vacation.

In connection with each kitchen is an allotment of three acres for the production of vegetables. The hard work here is done by the men, but the maintenance, such as weeding, sprinkling, etc., is part of the women's work. Women also work in the factories and even some in the fields. Each family is allotted a home, where is absolute privacy, but all eat at the common kitchens, excepting when there is illness.

Then the meals are taken to the sufferer. It is a set rule for women and men alike that coffee and "kuchen" is served in the middle of forenoon and afternoon. In the factories small stoves and coffee pots have been installed to make this lunch convenient. In the common kitchens every utensil necessary for the preparation of meals is provided. The bread and cake is baked in the community bakery by men and distributed among the communes.

Each kitchen, occupying a whole building, is large and airy, with its own supply of hot and cold water and sanitary drain. Along one side of the room is the low brick stove, back of which is a highly polished sheet of tin against which hang kettles and pans. The tables stretch along the whole length of the room, the women sitting at one and the men at the other. In the summer time breakfast is served at 6 and in the winter at 7, dinner is at 11:30 and the supper bell rings at 6:30 in the winter and 7 in the summer.

The Amana community is absolutely communistic. There is no individual property. The all is owned by all. To each member is accorded certain credit for clothes and necessities at the community store. A physician, educated by the community at one of the leading universities, looks after the health of the members.

Quite naturally there is no great incentive among the members to develop along modern lines. Here the inter-urban electric car is yet unknown and transportation from village to village is by the old-fashioned ox-team. This beast also is used extensively in the fields to pull the single-handed plows.

The simplicity of the homes, which from a spirit of economy, are unpainted, is carried out even in the churches. The house of worship is as plain as it can be made. The seats are simple wooden benches, without backs, and a plain wooden table serves as a pulpit. The services consist of singing and reading from the Bible and the revelations of Amana prophets. Some of the principal beliefs of these people are:

There is eternal life, for which this life is but a preparation.

There is no purgatory, millennium in this life or predestination.

There will be a resurrection—reward for the good and punishment for the wicked.

That baptism is purely spiritual and submersion in water unnecessary.

That public feet washing after the example of Christ is necessary to proper humiliation of spirit.

That celibacy is the highest ideal of life.

That God reveals through visions and revelations today.

That any strife between men is wicked—hence they forbid lawsuits and war.

Possibly the secret of the long success of this community lies in its name. When these people first arrived on the undulating prairie they now call home they sought a name. It is related that at a service held on the hilltop they opened the Bible at will and found the passage describing the hill of Amana. The word means "remain true."

"LOG DRIVE" CHOKES MISSISSIPPI RIVER

Dams Stream and Backs Water Three Miles—Takes Two Years for it to Reach Destination

Minneapolis.—When a log drive, the largest brought from the headwaters of the Mississippi river in ten years, jammed in that stream two miles above this city, the statement that lumbering in this state is a thing of the past was clearly refuted by evidence which could not be disputed.

Packed far above and below the surface of the water, the jam formed an immense dam and backed the water for three miles. It is estimated that there are 30,000,000 feet of lumber in the immense pile, some of the logs being driven fifteen feet beneath the top of the water by the weight of those above them. The logs—Norway and white pine—constitute a summer's work for the Mississippi mills.

The drive was two years reaching Minneapolis from Poskagama Lake, Itasca county. It was "hung up" at Little Falls last winter. The logs will remain where they are until the mills require them. Small sections are broken off each day and sent down to be sawed.

GENTLE JABS.

AUSTRIAN WARSHIPS MOVE

Ordered to Proceed to Territory in Dispute With Italy.

Geneva, Switzerland, May 13.—The Austrian government has issued an order that all Austrian ships in Italian waters proceed at once to Trieste or Pola.

Germans arriving in Switzerland from Italy say it is no longer safe to speak German on the streets of Milan or Turin. They say that several Germans have been handled roughly by crowds. Two are reported to have been nearly lynched at Brescia.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

FRENCH ADVANCE IS BEING PUSHED

More Lines of Germans North of Arras Are Taken.

4,000 PRISONERS IS CLAIM

Three Important Trenches Are Seized—German Line Is Threatened—British and Belgian Repulse Teutons in New Spring Drive—Greatest Battle of War.

London, May 13.—Continuing what is now declared to be the greatest battle of the war, and admitted in Berlin, as well as announced here and in Paris as the great spring drive of the allies, the French gained further successes in their offensive north of Arras.

Repeated assaults carried the French force partly through the town of Neuville-St. Vaast, taking 200 German prisoners there, strengthened the French foothold in the outskirts of Arras, practically cutting off all German communication between that town and Arras and carrying three new lines of German trenches north of Carancy. The town is practically surrounded and its capture seems certain.

Berlin Admits Losses.

Included in the German night statement is an admission that the French still hold the trenches captured between Carancy and Neuville, north of Arras. The statement also admits that the French gained a foothold in the blockhouse on Hartmannswiller Kopf, but says they were driven out.

Claim 4,000 Prisoners.

Paris, May 13.—The official communiqué at Paris was as follows: "The fighting north of Arras continues with extreme violence. In the night of Tuesday-Wednesday the enemy, reinforced, delivered several counter attacks which were without result. In the counter attack directed against Neuville-St. Vaast the assailants suffered very heavy losses. In the cemetery alone we found more than 200 German dead and we captured 100 men. The second attack, between Carancy and Ablain, was also repulsed and a third, in which the Germans debouched from Ablain was also thrown back.

"This morning we made progress in the woods east of Carancy, taking 125 prisoners. This advance continued in the afternoon. We have, moreover, occupied three successive lines of trenches on the border of the wood north of Carancy and we immediately penetrated into the wood, threatening, at close range the last line of communication remaining open to the defenders of the position.

"Finally we captured a further part of the village and made 400 prisoners. In the afternoon we attacked the part of the Neuville-St. Vaast still held by the enemy. The street fighting resulted in making us masters of several groups of houses. Our advance continues. The total number of prisoners since Sunday last was this evening about 4,000.

"On the rest of the front we stopped short by our gun fire three German attacks near Berry-au-Bac, Beauséjour and the Marie Thorse works at Bagatelle."

German Failure Costly, French Say.

London, May 13.—The official press bureau issued this statement: "Field Marshal French sends this report under date of May 12: 'East of Ypres last evening we repulsed another German attack south of the Menin road. This is the third costly failure of the Germans here yesterday. Elsewhere on the front there is no change in the situation.'

GREECE WANTS VENIZELIS

Nation Is Despairing of Efforts of Gounaris Cabinet.

London, May 13.—The Times correspondent at Sofia telegraphs: "The ministerial journals of Greece strike a note of despair as a consequence of the failure of the Gounaris cabinet to induce the entente powers to accept conditions limiting their freedom of action in regard to the future redistribution of territory in the Balkans. The return of M. Venizelos to power is now openly suggested and the triumph of his policy is admitted."

"According to the Tribuna of Salonica, M. Venizelos, who is now at Mytilene, is organizing a new sacred legion of 50,000 men composed mainly of Greek refugees for the purpose of realizing the Hellenic program in Asia Minor."

Cancel's Canal Tour of Fleet.

Washington, May 13.—As a result of the pending international crisis it has been decided by the administration that the battle fleet shall be held in eastern waters instead of being sent through the canal to the Pacific as planned. While there is no official authority for the statement it is believed that a decision to this effect was reached at Tuesday's meeting.

Dramatic Notes

FAMILY THEATRE.

Werden & Gearin offer a spectacular songalogue which you will enjoy intensely, for this act is a distinct novelty. Lee & Lee have a dainty song and dance review entitled "At the Telephone." Class and niftiness are predominating features of this act and it is bound to be relished by the most fastidious. The humor offered is of a refined sort usually adapted to the feminine portion of an audience and the songs are original and up to date in every detail.

The three Livingstons cordially invite all worrying over the war and business depressions to come and witness their act, termed "A Cyclone of Hilarity." Their object in life is to make people laugh and it is claimed they are successful.

First class pictures will close the bill.

"The Mystery of the Sea Dansant" is an episode of the "Girl Detective" series into parts with Cleo Ridgely and Ruth Livingston in the leading roles.

Herbert Prior and Jesse Stevens will be presented in "A Pipe Dream" an Edison comedy.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Tonight the feature at the Princess is entitled "A Spark From the Embers" with Frank Borzage and Elizabeth Burbridge in the leading roles, a strange tale of crossing fates, wherein a penniless girl saves herself from a terrible fate from a gentleman crook. The other pictures are a Keystone comedy Droppington's Terrible Fate, a live comedy with plenty of laughs, and a Thanhouser drama, Their One Love, with the Fairbanks twins and Robert Wilson in the leading roles. This is a thrilling romance of bygone days.

SPLENDID PICTURE

An exceptionally good picture was "The Little Gray Lady," given last evening at the Family Theatre. Miss Jane Grey had the leading role in this production of Daniel Frohman's and the picture proved to be a most interesting phase of life at Washington, and she had an excellent company for support. The picture was given in four parts. It was witnessed by large audiences at both performances. Next Wednesday another feature picture, "In the Bishop's Carriage," will be given.

The Hearst-Selig News is always a much enjoyed feature, and was given last evening.

MOBS RULE CAPITAL; TURKISH RIOTERS KILL

Biggest Hotel at Constantinople Is Reported Sacked.

Geneva, Switzerland, May 13.—Via Paris, 3:40 p. m.—The Journal de Geneve has received a dispatch from Salonki saying that many persons have been killed or injured in the course of riots in Constantinople. Mobs numbering thousands, the newspaper says, pillaged the principal shops and hotels. The sultan's guard has been called out.

According to this information, the Pera Palace hotel, the largest and most pretentious European hotel in the city, was sacked. The police were overwhelmed.

Food prices in Constantinople have doubled and there is widespread misery among the poorer classes. The hospitals are crowded with wounded soldiers.

Mrs. E. E. Holdridge of Sterling visited in Dixon today.

"TIZ" is wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now from any druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy.

WITNESS AFTER WITNESS IN DIXON

SUCH EVIDENCE OUR READERS CANNOT DISPUTE

As we take up the Telegraph week by week, we are struck by the hearty unmistakable way in which witness after witness speaks out as Mrs. Fine does here. If these people were strangers living miles away, we might take little notice of them. But they are not. They are our neighbors living among us. Their word is too easily proven to admit of any doubt. They speak out in the hope that their experience may be a guide to others.

Mrs. J. L. Fine, 1006 Peoria Ave., Dixon says: "I have suffered for years from kidney trouble. My back ached and pained so severely that I had to stay in bed. I had headaches and dizzy spells and specks appeared before my eyes. My wrists and ankles also swelled. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros. Co's. Drug store and they helped me. They have never failed to give satisfactory results.

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Fine had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

VANDERBILT'S BODY MISSING

Persistent Reports of Finding It Unrealized by Friends.

London, May 13.—Late dispatches from Queenstown report that twenty-one additional bodies were brought here and six others are reported at Skull on Cape Clear.

The body of Alfred G. Vanderbilt is not among those found, so far as can be learned. While rumors are persistent that it was washed ashore representatives of his family have been unable to locate it, although they have an army of men and a fleet of boats engaged in the search.

Auto Plant to Make Fuses.

Providence, R. I., May 13.—The American Locomotive company announces its intention of reopening the plant in this city which has been

 ago. The company is to employ at least 1,000 hands in the manufacture of brass fuse heads for shrapnel.

INDIAN LIQUOR LAW TESTED

Saloon Keeper Sued for Selling Intoxicants to Members of Oneida Tribe.

Green Bay, Wis., May 13.—In order to test the constitutionality of the law which prohibits the sale of liquor to Indians, a friendly case was instituted in the municipal court.

A local saloon keeper is charged with having sold liquor to an Oneida Indian. Liquor dealers say the law does not prohibit them from selling liquor to a civilized Indian or an Indian not a member of a tribe.

ANNULS J. J. BRADY MARRIAGE

Court Grants the Petition of Wife of State Auditor.

Chicago, May 13.—Mrs. Mary Quinlan Brady was granted an annulment of her marriage to James J. Brady, state auditor, by Judge Charles M.
 Walker. Mrs. Brady testified that she was married to the auditor in Detroit April 28, 1913, two days after her divorce from Charles Kuhns.

"Mr. Brady told me that if we were married in Michigan, it would be legal," Mrs. Brady testified.

"I went down to Springfield and lived with him until December, 1913, and when his notion determined that I was not his wife any longer, he said I had to leave. He just used the technicality of the law to protect himself."

 ment has been made of the wedding of J. L. Bolton and Miss Anna Early of Beckemeyer.

CHILD LABOR BILL ISALIVE AND KICKING

Illinois House Refuses to Strike
 Out Enacting Clause.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—By a vote of 37 to 89 the house refused to kill the Shurtleff child labor bill by striking out the enacting clause. The measure was up for consideration on second reading and was advanced to third reading after being slightly amended.

The Shurtleff bill requires that children under eighteen years of age shall obtain school certificates before they are permitted to work, and requires that all children under sixteen years of age shall be required to attend school.

The motion to strike out the enacting clause, an action which would have killed the bill, was made by Representative Weber of Chicago.
 Representative Lee O'Neill Browne of Ottawa led the fight against the measure. He declared that "this system of paternalism is making a nation of sissies."

Simple Life for Grads.

Freeport, Ill., May 13.—There are

 it is expected that most of the number will be qualified to graduate in June. By a ruling of the board of education the girls will wear a simplified gown, the cost to be not more than $5.

Federal Building Seems Sure.

Taylorville, Ill., May 13.—That the work of construction on Taylorville's new postoffice is soon to begin is indicated by the award of the contract for conducting the tests of soil on the federal site to J. S. Michaels by the postoffice department.
